

MARS AIR CURTAINS ASSURE SANITATION & CLEANLINESS IN HEALTHCARE SETTINGS

CHALLENGES IN THE HEALTHCARE SETTING

- Sensitive settings demand the highest levels of cleanliness
- Surgical facilities and cleanrooms must maintain compliance with a myriad of industry standards
- Facilities management struggle to manage high utility costs and workplace safety concerns
- Staff productivity diminishes with temperature fluctuations created by repeated door openings
- Patient care protocols demand odor and particulate containment control throughout the facility
- Refrigeration and HVAC equipment maintenance and repair costs consume budgets and time

MARS SUPPORTS HEALTHCARE FACILITIES TO OPERATE MORE EFFICIENTLY AND EFFECTIVELY

- Meet Clean Standards Repeated door openings can be protected with an invisible shield of air that never interferes with equipment and patient entry/exit
- Eliminate Hazardous Slippery Floors Dripping moisture and hazardous slippery floors are eliminated – and safety restored – with Mars powerful, protective air stream
- Facility Management Support Control expenses associated in the operation and maintenance of specialized HVACR equipment
- Shut Out Flying Pests and Debris Keep flying pests and debris out while protecting conditioned air no matter how many open doors you host
- Reduce Utility Bills Lower heating and cooling utility spend with the invisible barrier protection of Mars that works to keep costly treated air inside the building even when doors must open repeatedly
- Protect Health Care Facility Integrity Maintain sanitation and odor control standards using Mars HEPAC® and Mars UVC™ specialized sanitizing units...only from Mars

Keep building heating and cooling costs under control with the utility cost-cutting protection of a Mars air curtain.

Doors that open repeatedly and introduce untreated exterior air, flying pests, dust and debris are no match for the invisible, obstruction-free support of Mars.

Protect critical refrigeration and HVAC equipment from undue strain while reducing maintenance and extending life.

Clean rooms and testing centers must meet strict regulatory standards. Let Mars provide support with the specialized sanitation provided by the Mars HEPAC.®

The highest cleanliness standards demand a consistent workhorse you can count on...so count on Mars.

Reduce biological cross-contamination and control odors with the Mars UVC™ – the only air curtain with the power of UV light.

atmosphere is everything
